For this evidence, you have to participate in the forum called Family members in which you have to:

- Present your close family.
- Ask a basic question about a family member's likes to any partner.

For this forum, you have to present your family in terms of names and relationship you have with them using the following template: My family is composed by: Susana, she is my mother, Roberto, he is my brother, etc. Remember that you have to read your partners' exercises and at the end of your talk, you have to write a question on any partner's family like this: Do you have a big or small family?

In order for you to answer your partner's question, you can use the following options according to the case:

- I have a small family because I live with my mom and my dad.
- I have a big family because I live with my grandparents, my parents, my cousins, etc.

Steps to participate in the forum:

- Click the Activity 7 button in the main menu. Then click on Evidence: Forum "Family members".
- Enter to the sequence, click on Responder, then click on Enviar.
- Select one of the partner's commentaries and then express your opinion clicking on the button Responder.
- Type the subject and the content with your opinion, then click on Enviar.
